

Galbraith Chews The Fat On News 12

In a News 12 story aired on September 5, 2005, LILWA member and Grease Disposal committee-person, Dave Galbraith, presented the association's view of the ongoing grease problems on Long Island.

The story focused on the conversion of grease into a bio-diesel product that can be used as fuel in specially modified vehicles and the proposed construction of a facility to refine the new product.

As background for the fuel story, it did cover the current situation and the issue of illegal dumping and Galbraith proved to be an articulate spokesman for the association.
